We run the study in 8 countries: Poland, UK, Slovenia, Czech Republic, Germany, Greece, and Portugal.

We have asked ten questions to estimate the scale of the distant education problems among teachers. Here are some of them:

- What types of freely available digital resources have you used on a regular basis while teaching remotely?
- What types of paid/subscription-based digital resources have you used on a regular basis while teaching remotely?
- Have you used resources that were created or modified by either you or your colleagues?

In collaboration with the Communia Association, we will prepare the report, and we will initiate our advocacy work based on the study at the beginning of September.
